Carrancistas Claim Force Triumphal Arches Withered Old Paper Money to be Re-Has Come Over to the "First Chief."

From Agua Prieta, where he had quit Villa.

He claims that the morale of the Willa forces was broken and that they were all waiting for a chance to quit or join Carranus and were only staying with Villa because they had nothing else to do. He said the entire Villa force was not worth 1650 fresh, spirited fighting men and he declared emphatically that villa would never be rable to take Agua Prieta. He said thore was no possibility of Villa's men attempting to resist any efforts of the United States to force them to stop fighting. The minute that Villa undertakes to invade the United States or the United States to force them to villa's men will quit and go to the hills and brush, be declared.

have been promised pay in silver instead of the paper Chihuahua currency which the government itself has refused to accept in settlement of its customs and other charges.
Rumor in Junres is that Villa wanted to take Agua Prieta, so that he might transfer the revenue offices of his headquarters to that border city from Juarez, making Agua Prieta play the role of a new Junrez, with the PhelpaDodge railroad south from there to Nacazari as the channel through which the cattle and mining wealth would be shipped to the border for raile across the international line.

It is declared that the issuance of Villa's new silver currency now being coined at Chihuahua, has been held
